Art in Storefronts:

Through this program, MU's School of Visual Studies', Art on the Move program continues its mission for community outreach by presenting public exhibitions of student, alumni, and faculty work in storefronts across the state of Missouri so that they can exhibit their work, connect with communities, and help reinvigorate commercial corridors that have been hit by the economic downturn.

With generous support from:

Green County Extension Council & Commission, and Springfield liaison, Becky Overend Dock
